Pastor's Column

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

This weekend, we officially welcome Fr. Jins Devasia as our new Parochial Vicar. Fr. Jins moved in last Monday and hit the ground running! He will be a great addition to our parish, and I am excited to welcome him to his new home. Please introduce yourself to him after Mass this weekend!

I am away this week attending the School Pastor's Institute at the University of Notre Dame. Due to the complexities of having two schools at my next assignment, the Diocese encouraged me and any pastor of our Diocese with schools to attend. I am excited for this opportunity and happy to be equipped with information that will be helpful as I move on to my new assignment at the end of the month. Please keep me in your prayers!

Finally, our youth group is attending the Steubenville Youth Conference this weekend, where they will be able to experience opportunities for worship, Adoration, Mass, hear talks on the sacraments and our faith, and be offered the opportunity to experience some vocational discernment. I had the opportunity when I was in high school to attend several of these conferences and gained a lot of insight during my time there. Please keep our youth in your prayers this week as they experience this wonderful opportunity.

God bless,

Fr. Smith

MISSION

Reflection on Mk 6:7-13

The purpose of parish life is to form and send intentional missionary disciples of Jesus Christ. I wonder if sometimes we become so focused in on being “formed” that our parish life – everything from sacramental formation to liturgies to social events – becomes a comfort zone, a place where we just want to hang out and be, well, “religious.” Being fed and formed are essential, and there is nothing wrong with having a vibrant parish home and family where this takes place.

But we are also “sent.” The Great Commandment (Love ... God ... others) and the Great Commission (go ... baptize ... teach) form the mission that awaits our attention beyond the walls and campuses of our parishes. Today’s Gospel gives us Jesus’ mission instructions to the first group to be sent. There are two elements of these instructions that jump out at me.

First, the Twelve are sent out “two by two.” From the very beginning, there is community in mission! We aren’t sent out alone. Different gifts are needed. You have something to give that I don’t have, and vice versa. This anticipates Paul’s vision of the Church as the Body of Christ: a body with many, different parts that complement one another and form a unity.

Second, Jesus instructs them to “take nothing for the journey...” In other words, rely completely on God’s grace. Don’t let possessions, or the human desire for recognition distract you from the mission. Don’t even let someone’s rejection of the message upset you, just keep going. The harvest is rich!

~ Fr. Jay

SAINT KATERI TEKAKWITHA

Saint of the Day: July 14

Patron Saint of: Environment and Ecology

Kateri Tekakwitha would be treated as a slave. Because she would not work on Sunday, Kateri received no food that day. Her life in grace grew rapidly. She told a missionary that she often meditated on the great dignity of being baptized. She was powerfully moved by God’s love for human beings and saw the dignity of each of her people.

She was always in danger, for her conversion and holy life created great opposition. On the advice of a priest, Kateri stole away one night and began a 200-mile walking journey to a Christian Indian village at Sault St. Louis, near Montreal.

For three years she grew in holiness under the direction of a priest and an older Iroquois woman, giving herself totally to God in long hours of prayer, in charity, and in strenuous penance. At 23, Kateri took a vow of virginity, an unprecedented act for an Indian woman whose future depended on being married. She found a place in the woods where she could pray an hour a day—and was accused of meeting a man there!

Her dedication to virginity was instinctive: Kateri did not know about religious life for women until she visited Montreal. Inspired by this, she and two friends wanted to start a community, but the local priest dissuaded her. She humbly accepted an “ordinary” life. She practiced extremely severe fasting as penance for the conversion of her nation. Kateri Tekakwitha died the afternoon before Holy Thursday. Witnesses said that her emaciated face changed color and became like that of a healthy child. The lines of suffering, even the pockmarks, disappeared and the touch of a smile came upon her lips. She was beatified in 1980 and canonized in 2012.
